TWO COUNTY BOYS KILLED LAST NIGHT

Robert Schell Named Interim Director Of Purchase EOC

Seen & Heard

MURRAY

Life is filled with tragedy while at the same time people are seeking happiness.

The only thing a person can do is to try and keep a bright outlook and roll with the punches.

The mercury hit 100 degrees yesterday, held it for a very short while, then dropped back down to 91.

Thanks to Clifford's Gulf Service for the big bouquet of Zinnias. Drive by and take a look out at Five Points. When the current crop dies down Clifford keeps on watering the bed and a second crop will come up shortly. They are not quite as large, but are equally as colorful as the first crop.

Ervin Millard of Louisville is visiting Henry Erwin of Poplar Street this week. He comes every year it seems like and usually drops by.

Are Killed As Car Strikes A Culvert, Tumbles 250 Feet

Two young Calloway County men met death last night about 9:30 when their automobile apparently went out of control on the Pottertown Road and crashed. Bennie Gray McNutt, age 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buddy McNutt and John Thomas "Tommy" Lassiter, age 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Lassiter, both met death in the tragedy.

Young McNutt was dead on arrival at the Murray Hospital and Lassiter died about 11:30.

Proctor Ronald Wilkins of Marshall County and Sheriff Cohen Stubbfield were at the scene of the accident shortly after it occurred.

The two boys were traveling east at the time of the accident when the car apparently got out of control and struck a culvert in a side ditch. The car then rolled 250 feet before coming to rest against a tree. Both boys were thrown out of the car.

The accident occurred on a straight stretch following a sharp "S" curve. The car went off the left side of the road and along the shoulder and shallow side ditch before striking the metal culvert. After striking the culvert it apparently rolled end over end and sideways until it came to rest against the tree.

The car was a total wreck. Someone called the Max Churchill Funeral Home before police were called. Sheriff Cohen Stubbfield was proceeding out Highway 94 at the time and when the ambulance passed him, the driver got his attention and indicated he should follow.

Sheriff Stubbfield called the police and Trooper Ronald Wilkins of Marshall County answered the call.

Al Parker was with the two youths as they came through Murray but he got out at the Hill-Burpee Inn and the other two continued driving.

An official note was added to the tragedy when it was learned that Bennie's brother assisted in driving the two boys in the ambulance, and did not realize it was his own brother until later.

Both of the young men were members of the Tennessee National Guard and had just recently returned from the summer camp.

McNutt is a graduate of Murray University High School and Lassiter is a graduate of Calloway County High School.

Survivors of McNutt are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy McNutt of Murray Route Five; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Rice.

Louisville Youth Is Winner, State JC Tourney Here

Another Louisville youth, Paul Schultz, came to the front yesterday to win medals in the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce State Junior Golf Tournament. Schultz, 17 years old, finished with a 147 to take second place honors.

The top four men in the tournament will qualify for the National Jaycee Golf Tournament which will be held at Greensboro, North Carolina starting on August 8. The other two who qualified yesterday were Darrell Wayne, 15 of Henderson with 148 and Stacy Russell, 15 of Scottsville, with a 149.

James Walker who held the lead at the end of the first 18 holes, scored to 41 at the Oaks yesterday which ruled him out of the national by only two strokes.

Tommy Kahlisch, who was runner up in the state high school tournament finished with a 151.

Others in the top ten of the 130 golfers were Bernie Smith of Owensboro, 162; Ronnie Graham, Hopkinsville, 162; David Bessley of Glasgow and Dale Royce of Lebanon with 163.

Clyde Peel of the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company presented the trophies to the four top players at the end of the tournament, late yesterday evening.

Don Gilbert was chairman of the tournament.

Kentuckians Continue To Swelter Today

By United Press International

Kentuckians continued to swelter today in the Midwest, with temperatures expected to soar past the 100-degree mark.

A simmering heat wave has gripped Kentucky for several weeks and there is no apparent relief in sight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Louisville predicted today highs of 94, 95, western Kentucky and 102 in the Louisville area.

Paducah recorded a high of 103 on Tuesday; Bowling Green had 100.

There has been a big run on air conditioners and fans in most of Kentucky's major cities. Several Louisville dealers report they are completely sold out of air conditioners.

The round-the-clock use of air conditioners has put a drain on the power supplies in most communities, but there seems to be no danger of a power failure.

The Louisville Gas & Electric Co. said its facilities are able to take care of any demand.

"Of course it's possible to overload a transformer serving a particular area, but this would only affect a small number of customers," a spokesman said.

For those working outside, such as on trucks and construction projects, the heat was brutal.

Between 10 and 15 garbage dumpers in the Louisville area suffered heat exhaustion Tuesday.

But for the children it means simply another day at the pool or lake.

Famed Trumpet Of Severinsen At Kenlake

The evening may be warm, but the sounds coming from the Kenlake State Park Amphitheatre near Murray this weekend will be really "cool."

Famed trumpeter Doc Severinsen and his sextet are the featured attraction. Severinsen, a television star with NBC's "Tonight Show", and recording artist, has been described by Time Magazine as "one of the greatest trumpeters in the world."

Show time is 8 p.m. for both Friday and Saturday nights' entertainment. Admission for the Severinsen show is $3 for reserved seats, $2 for general admission, and half price for children.

Reservations for performances can be made by phoning Kenlake State Park phone (area code 502) 474-2211.

Mrs. Cleo Walker Killed In Michigan

Mrs. Cleo Walker of Flint, Mich., the former Carter Lee Tucker of Kentucky, was killed yesterday Monday about four p.m. when she was struck by a car as she was crossing the street near her home.

With Mrs. Walker at the time of the accident was her daughter, Linda, age 11, who is in critical condition in a hospital at Flint.

The deceased was 55 years of age and is survived by her husband, Carter Lee Tucker, two daughters, Maude Betty Lou and Linda Walker, and one son, Clayton, age 13, all of Flint, Mich. Other survivors are one sister, Mrs. William Gargus of Murray Route One and two brothers, Dale and Carl Tucker of Kentucky.

Funeral and burial services are being held in Flint, Mich., today. Mr. and Mrs. Dale Tucker, Carl Tucker, Mrs. William Gargus, and Mr. and Mrs. John Leslie Tucker are in Flint to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Cy Miller Wins State Board Approval

Mrs. Cy Miller (Phyllis) of Hazel has received a letter from the Kentucky State Board of Funeral Directors that she has passed her test that she took earlier in the year.

The Hazel woman is now a licensed funeral director. She has been assisting her husband at the Miller Funeral Home for the past seventeen years.

Quotes From The News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

WASHINGTON — The wife of accused Soviet spy Lt. Col. William H. Whelan, denying the charges:

"If there's any power in me I'll prove he did not do whatever they say that he did, because that man is too kind—there are too many people to prove it."

BOSTON — Conductor Harry E. Dickson, decrying the advertising blimp which crowned out part of a Boston symphony outdoor concert:

"It was a ridiculous display of stupid advertising. To come over 12,000 people to drown out the music—this is ridiculous."

VIRGINIA, Minn. — Forest ranger William Bradshaw, explaining to his fiancée that their wedding would be delayed because another female—a bear—attacked him as he shinned up a tree:

"The first time she pulled my boot off. The second time she pulled my sock off. The third time I reached over and grabbed another tree."

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, cautioning Americans against overoptimism for an early end to the Viet Nam war:

"We are fighting a war of determination. It may last a long time."

A Bible Thought For Today

He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

—Matthew 16:15

This is the most important question for every would-be Christian to consider. Their answer will determine their way of life.

Today is Wednesday, July 13, the 194th day of 1966 with 171 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase.

The morning stars are Venus and Saturn.

There are no evening stars.

English economist Sidney Webb was born on this day in 1859.

On this day in history:

In 1787, Congress passed the Northwest Ordinance setting up the first organized government west of the original 13 states.

In 1865, Horace Greeley wrote in an editorial in the New York Tribune that federal civil servants who didn't like Washington should "go West, young man, go West and grow up with the country."

In 1878, the Russo-Turkish war ended.

In 1942, the underground Free French movement changed its name to "Fighting France."

A thought for the day — Norwegian novelist Henrik Ibsen said: "I hold this man is in the right who is most clearly in league with the future."

FARE HOME

WASHINGTON 48 — The Veterans of Foreign Wars wants the government to pay the airline fare home for servicemen on emergency leave or those given leave before going overseas.

Reform Magazine Rep. Gen. James D. Hittle, representing the VFW, made the proposal Monday at a — before a House armed services subcommittee on the problem.

servicemen face in flying on commercial airlines at reduced fares.

Hittle noted that the government had paid for Christmas trips home for about 14,000 job Corps trainees.

He said U. S. fighting men were entitled to a similar opportunity to say a brief—and too often final—farewell to their families.

Income Tax

Questions-Answers

This column of questions-and-answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I was audited last year and had to pay additional tax on my income. What are the chances I will be audited again?

A — Just because you have been audited once does not mean that you will automatically be audited the following year. Returns are selected for audit because there are apparent errors on the returns indicating overpayment or underpayment of tax. Returns are also selected for audit on a random basis to test and encourage correct reporting.

At some time or other, all taxpayers may expect to have their returns audited. At present, all returns are mathematically verified. Also, periodic checks on other aspects of a return contribute to sound tax administration.

Q — I'm withholding Social Security taxes for my maid who works in my home. Do I have to withhold income taxes too?

A — No. Household employees are exempt from income tax withholding.

Q — I just found out my father paid tax last year on his Social Security benefits. Is it too late to do anything about it?

A — No. Security benefits are not taxable and your father is entitled to a refund on the tax he paid on them. This can be done by filing a claim for refund on Form 943 or by filing an amended return.

To file an amended return, use a Form 1044 and write "amended" across the top. Then fill in the return as it should have been and recompute the tax liability.

Q — I'm in this country as a foreign exchange student. If I earn my money while I'm here will I have to pay U. S. tax on it?

A — Money earned while you are here will most likely be taxable income. Your tax obligations are explained in the booklet, "U. S. Tax Guide for Aliens" and "Tax Advice for Foreign Scholars," etc. They are available at no charge from the District Director's office.

Q — In the restaurant where I work, most of the tips we get come from the service charge that is added on to the bill. Since we get this money from our employer we haven't been reporting this as tips. Now I find out that some friends of mine working in another restaurant are reporting this money as tip income. Who is right?

A — You are. Service charges shared by employees are considered wages and are reported as such by your employer. You need not include them when you report to your employer the cash tips you made.

Q — I received some U. S. savings bonds from my mother's estate. Will I have to pay on them?

A — The bonds do not have to be declared as income, but you will have to pay tax on the interest.

The year in which you report this income depends on the type of bond. For an explanation, contact your Internal Revenue Service office.

Q — I've been out on sick leave for a month now and it looks as if I'll be several months more before I can return to work. I'm sure I'll qualify for the sick pay exclusion when I file next year's return. Can my boss stop withholding income tax on the pay I receive while I'm out?

National League Rides High On McCarver, Wills

By LEO H. PETERSEN

UPI Sports Editor

ST. LOUIS 17½ — The National League, thanks to two of its lesser lights, still was riding high today and manager Walter Alton even came up with an extra bonus in the 10-inning, 2-1 victory over the American League in the All-Star game.

Catcher Tim McCarver of the Cardinals and shortstop Maury Wills of the Dodgers, who don't rate very high in the National League hitting ranks, did the American League in Tuesday.

"The victory itself was satisfactory enough," said Alton, who is becoming more and more of a pain in the neck to the American League.

"But there was something extra in the game for me," Sandy Koufax showed me he was all right and Wills proved again that he's a mighty good little man to have around in the clutch."

Koufax, who had been pounded in his last start by Atlanta Saturday, gave up the one run the American League scored but it wasn't entirely his fault.

No Breaking Stuff

"Sandy didn't have his breaking ball working, but he showed me he's back on the beam," said the happy Alton.

Alton had praise for all of his players.

"They did a tremendous job," he said. "I'm glad they wrapped it up when they did because I was running out of players."

He was about to use one of them when Wills broke it up.

With Pete Richert taking over on the mound for the American League as the game went into extra innings for the fourth time, McCarver hit his first pitch for a single.

Second baseman Ron Hunt of the Mets sacrificed McCarver to second on Richert's second pitch.

Then the Senators' southpaw threw two balls and one strike to Wills.

Clutch Hit

His sixth- and last-pitch was a fast ball and Wills rifled it to right field for the big hit of the game. McCarver left second with the crack of the bat and although Tony Oliva came in fast to field the ball, his throw to the plate was wide and too late.

So the National League won its fourth straight All-Star contest and made its margin over the American League 19-17. For Alton, it was his fifth All-Star victory against only two defeats.

In World Series competition Alton is 4-1 over the American League so it's plain why the Dodgers skipper isn't too popular in American League circles.

Tuesday's games were played in searing, 100-degree temperatures in the new Busch Memorial Stadium and some 300 of the 49,936 fans who attended had to be treated in first aid stations.

Many, including Vice President Hubert Humphrey, who threw out the first ball, left their seats before the game was over to escape the heat.

Manager Sam Mele had no excuses for his American League. "We just couldn't score runs,"

Mele said.

"Pete's a good pitcher," Mele insisted. "I brought him in just when I wanted to."

He said he never gave a thought to walking Wills.

"After all," Mele pointed out, "Alton had Felipe Alou on the on-deck circle so I couldn't see where there would be any percentage in walking Wills."

Alou, along with catcher Tom Haller, were the only players, outside of pitchers, that Alton had left.

There was no second guessing of Mele either even though both runs scored by the National League came off his lefthanded pitchers.

"Well, we got far run off a left-hander, too," Mele pointed out.

"First came in the second inning with one out when third baseman Brooks Robinson named the game's most valuable player, lined a shot to left. Hank Aaron was sure starting in for the ball and at the last minute attempted to make a shoe string catch, but the ball went by him and rolled to the wall for a triple."

Pitch Got Away

Koufax got first baseman George Scott to foul out but while pitching to catcher Bill Freehan, a charge-up got away from him and sailed high over catcher Joe Torre's head and Robinson easily scored on the wild pitch.

Denny McLain, the American League starter, pitched three perfect innings, but the National League promptly tied it up in the fourth when southpaw Jim Kaat of the Minnesota Twins came on the scene.

Willie Mayr led off with a single and stopped at second when Roberto Clemente also singled. Kaat bore down to get Aaron and Wills. McCovey, with Mayr moving to third on McCovey's force out.

Third baseman Ron Santo then hit a slow ground ball down the third base line. Brooks Robinson came in fast in an attempt to scoop it up, but couldn't make the play so Mayr crossed the plate with the tying run and Santo was credited with an infield hit.

"The hit was Mayr's 22nd in All-Star competition and the run was his 19th, extending his All-Star records in those two categories."

Pitching Dominated

There were few thrills between the fourth and 10th innings, with the pitching predominating. But then came the 10th and the McCarver and Wills heroics.

Brooks Robinson got three of the American League's six hits off four National League pitchers and set one All-Star fielding record and tied another when he scooped eight chances and had four putouts.

Gaylord Perry, the fourth National League pitcher who gave up only one hit in the two innings he pitched, was the winning pitcher while Richert, of course, was the loser.

In between Koufax and Perry, the National League used Jim Bunning and Juan Marchal. Mel Stottlemyre and Sonny Siebert were the American League hurlers in addition to McLain, Kaat and Richert.

There were two All-Star financial records set with gross receipts of $307,848 and net receipts of $204,940.31. The money, as well as the television and radio revenue, goes into the Players' pension fund.

That's all the American League had to be thankful for, however.

PAY TRIBUTE

MOSCOW 17½ — Soviet Communist Party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev, Premier Alexei Kosygin and other top officials paid final tribute Monday to Alexander Rudakov, a secretary of the Soviet Communist Party who died Sunday at 56.

They visited his bier at the Moscow House of the Trade Unions, where Rudakov is lying in state. He will be buried Tuesday in a Red Square ceremony and his ashes interred in the Kremlin wall.

BUS CRASHES

KEEL, England 17½ — A bus full of elderly women returning from a continental vacation plunged off a road near here early Monday, careened down an embankment and overturned. One woman was killed and 25 others injured.

Veterans who train under the new GI Bill will have eight years from date of discharge to complete their schooling, with May 31, 1974, as the earliest cut-off date.

Bravely, Larry Thomas, president of Teamsters Local 998, Philadelphia, opposes the move for the union to pay $1,000,000 in legal fees for Teamsters' President James Hoffa and other officials at the convention in Miami Beach, Fla. He cast the only "No" vote.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lovett have returned to their home on Murray Route Two after visiting their son, William Lovett and family in Toledo, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Lovett made the trip by bus and returned on Monday, July 11.

Joseph Miller, age 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Miller of Dexter, was one of those from Calloway County High chosen to attend the Upward Bound project at Murray State this summer. He hopes to graduate from Murray University and enter a medical school.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Moore and daughters, Melinda and Susan, of Sturgis, Miss., were the weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Lois Miller, West Main Street.

Temple Hill Chapter, Order Of Eastern Star, Honored By Visit Of Grand Officers

Temple Hill Chapter No. 511 Order of the Eastern Star had its official visit by the worthy grand officers of the Grand Chapter of Order of the Eastern Star of Kentucky, Mrs. Margaret B. Allen of Benton, and by the worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter of the OES in Kentucky, Dwight B. Leonard of Fort Knox, on Friday evening, July 15, at the Masonic Hall.

An address honoring Mrs. Allen, Mr. Leonard, Mrs. William Holmes of Mayfield and Howard McNeely of Murray, deputy grand master and patron respectively of District 22 OES, was given.

Mrs. Lucy Aldridge and Helen Aldridge, worthy matron and patron respectively of Temple Hill Chapter, presented honorary certificates to each of the four officers along with red corsages for the ladies and white buttonholes for the men. Gifts of money in the form of a check were also presented to Mr. Leonard.

The worthy matron and patron along with John Harvey and Aubert Perkins sang the welcome song and one of the favorite songs of Mrs. Allen. The grand officers formed the base of the triangle and the star points formed the rest.

Introductions were made of distinguished guests following the opening of the chapter. Mrs. Allen and Mr. Leonard were officially introduced and welcomed.

Others were Bill Cates, past grand patron of the Grand Chapter of the OES in Kentucky; Christine Mae Shanks, grand conductor.

Grand appointive officers were Dorcas James, chaplain; Clara Henrich chapter; Kade Kope, Adah, Benton; Mary Heist, Ruth, Hardin; Irene Leonard, Electa, Fort Knox.

Grand representatives of other states in the grand jurisdiction of Kentucky; Bertha Gannett, Mississippi; Benton; Margo, Cincinnati; Clinton; Fort Bay.

These Guests No Longer Welcome

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We recently had houseguests from out of state who came here looking for a house to buy. They were not close friends. In fact they invited themselves. We had just bought our own home, so our guests asked us how much we paid for it. Since they were in the market for one, we told them.

When a realtor came to our house to get our guests and show them what he had lined up for them, Mrs. X asked the realtor (a stranger to us) to appraise OUR newly purchased home. I was appalled, and the realtor was embarrassed as I was, but Mrs. X persisted in questioning with only 15 and when I see my friends out having a good time I am sure they are having a good time.

ROBERT SCHELL

Maynard's resignation to accept a poverty program post in Florida was accepted "with regret." He will step down from the directorship August 1.

Mac Layton, a McCracken County representative to the council, asked Maynard to explain his recent two-week vacation. The director said the council had approved 15 days per month per employee of accrued time since OEO policy does not permit overtime.

Maynard said he used accrued time and also was permitted by Dr. Ray Mofield, council chairman, to study some poverty projects in Florida.

Under questioning by Robert Morris, another McCracken County delegate, and Layton, Maynard admitted concluding a lease agreement with the International Business Machine Corp. that cost the council $341. Maynard pointed out he did not sign the original agreement and that the IBM equipment was not being used in the office.

The council approved purchasing of individual hospital insurance for Purchase Area OEO employees and agreed to change its meeting policy.

Under a request by Layton to meet every month until a definite policy guideline is developed, the council voted to meet the second Monday of each month until further notice.

The council will meet at Murray at 7 p.m. August 8 at the city hall there.

Concerning policy determinations, Layton, who is a member of a policy committee of the council, said he would like to see programs before they are submitted in order to study the documents.

Miss Sheila Delaney, Washington OEO analyst assigned to Western Kentucky, recommended the council establish an executive committee to "work closely with the director" and to "closely coordinate" their thoughts on the program.

Marshall County Judge Paul Howard, a council member, said many programs have to be approved and then written. H. C. Mathis, McCracken County delegate and acting chairman, agreed.

Mathis said strict deadlines often are imposed by Washington officials which demand that the program be written on a hasty basis and sent forward.

Miss Delaney said there were a number of avenues to approach the problem but "I believe the council should be involved in the preliminary and planning discussions."

The council appointed members of an advisory committee for project Upward Bound at Murray State University and approved employment of 60 persons in four counties to work under the Nelson Amendment grant to the counties for beautification projects.

We Are Proud to Announce the Newest Member of Our Staff at
The J. H. Churchill Funeral Home

William B. "Bill" Britton has now moved to Murray with his family to join our staff. Mr. Britton entered the funeral profession in April 1939 in Paducah and was licensed while associated with the Harris Funeral Home of that city. From December, 1944, to January, 1950, he worked with the H. M. Patterson & Son Funeral Home of Atlanta, Georgia. He returned to Kentucky in 1950 and worked this profession until accepting a position with the National Casket Company in May of 1955 as a salesman. He has been a licensed Funeral Director and Embalmer since 1942.
Mr. Britton has served a total of twenty-seven years in the Funeral Profession and is now a full time employee of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home.
Mr. Britton and his wife, Mary Jane, daughters Mary Anne and Linda and son Steve live in an apartment in the Funeral Home. They are members of the First Methodist Church.

RESEARCH EXPENDITURES—Canada's Minister of Industry C. M. Drury cites these figures to show Canada is miles behind other nations in research spending per $100 gross national product. Last year, he said, the U.S. spent $21 billion on research and development, to Canada's less than $500 million.
